

* Title of the project

Clinical Skills Center at the Karolinska University Hospital - Developing Competency and Patient Safety

* Research organization

Karolinska University Hospital and Karolinska Institutet

* Author

Italo Masiello, PhD and Gunilla Bolinder, PhD

* Goal of the project

At the Clinical Skills Center (KTC) we provide health science students and Karolinska University Hospital personnel with a comprehensive training service. At the KTC the learning and the sustainment of competences are in focus!

* Research method

With educational research methods and both standard and tailored training packages KTC can help to maximise the effects of training resources.

* Conclusions

No matter the kind of technology used, no matter the skills to train, and no matter the level of competence, at KTC you find technical and educational experts that can help you in creating training services to either learn new or maintain current skills.
